

P. ANN EVERSON-PRICE

P. Ann has shown that one should never give up on their dreams and aspirations of going higher and achieving bigger and better things.

Three times she has, taken a leave from a successful radio career, to pursue theatrical roles off-Broadway, with producer Donald Lawrence and national tours, co starring with Peabo Bryson and Ann Nesby of Sounds of Blackness. She has even toured and lived in Japan. And three times she has returned.

Since returning home she gives back to the Community by serving on the ministerial staff at the House Of Joy Christian Ministries. For almost 10 years, she has served as mentor to over 70 young voices as the Director of the Cincinnati Super Choir, formerly the Youth Chorale of the Arts Consortium of Cincinnati. This group has worked with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, The Cincinnati Ballet, and The Anthony Munoz Foundation. They have performed at annual, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. celebrations at the Hyatt Regency and Music Hall.

On Mondays, she provides personal vocal coaching to adults and children. Some of her students have successfully auditioned for The Lion King, Annie and The Showtime At The Apollo.

P Ann attended Withrow High School and realizes the importance of giving back to hometown talent.

P. Ann is a part of the Artist On Tour Program, taking music into schools throughout Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana as part of her "Jazz to Motown" musical presentation.

P. Ann is a business owner and serves as consultant for: DeSaints Entertainment, and PAnnentertainment. Producing Christian, Corporate and other Stellar events. Her 8 piece show band is featured at top supper clubs, country clubs, charities, black-tie events and outdoor festivals in the Ohio area.

She is a former officer on the Gospel Announcer's Guild for the Gospel Music Workshop of America (with over 20,000 members worldwide). She also volunteers and serves as co-host at the International Gospel Industry Retreat held twice a year in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, hosted by Ambassador Dr. Bobby Jones.

She has received numerous honors, Proclamations and awards for her musical contributions and work in the community.

She finds the time to lend her voice and talents to the House of Joy Christian Ministries, The Mosaic Life Christian Ministries and other ministries around the region. She had the honor of serving as co-chair for the Women's Committee of the Northern Ky., Greater Cincinnati Billy Graham Mission. She is also one of the founding members and ministerial host of The Rock Christian Cafe'.

On Sundays, from 8--12 noon, the praise party is in "full effect" on 100.3 FM, WMOJ and at www.wmoj.com as she spins some of the top artists in the gospel industry.
