

Wings Model Management Inc. is a Model and Talent Management Company, which was established in 1998. As Industry Professionals, Wings has a keen awareness of what it takes to become a success in the fashion world, as well as the entertainment business.

Wings works with local and national companies, as well as International Agencies. Wings Model Management has successfully placed Models, Singers, and Actors with major companies such as Disney, Ford Models, and Elite, just to name a few. Their actors and music artists have appeared on various New York Broadway Stages.

Wings prides itself in working with new talent, developing them for the Local, National and International Markets. In a very competitive industry, this company, headed by Jake Lang, stands to be among the most notable.

Wings Model Management's mission is to find talented and ambitious people who have the desire and motivation to take their talent to the next level.